ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM WASHINGTON

As speaker of the House of Representatives Champ Clark of Missouri gives the right of way to progressive legislation which has been strangled to death by the republicans, he will, in the opinion of many politicians, have a presidential possibility out of himself. It is being talked over in the cloak rooms, and all agree that Clark's chances will not be so bad if he makes good as speaker. It is argued for the next speaker that he is unsophisticated so far as having any deals with the special interests is concerned. It is said he would be an excellent compromise candidate, as he has the friendship and confidence of both the so called radical and conservative wings of democracy. Clark is a man of commanding personality, and physically he is well preserved and striking in appearance. He is one of the plainest men, and one of the frankest, in American politics.

Things the People Pay For.

Sofa pillows, peroxide of hydrogen, hoardhound drops, lemons and sugar and Jamaica ginger—there are a few of the little perquisites purchased by the senate at the expense of the people during the past year. The purchases are recorded in the report of Senate Secretary Bennett. Sandwich in the report between extract of rose and bromo seltzer is two quarts of castor oil. Taking senators home after night sessions resulted in a taxicab bill that would make a Broadway star envious. There is a record of vice president Sherman's automobile troubles. Every puncture is recorded with its cost as are many other things of like nature.

University Regents Meet.

The Board of Regents of the State University convened in Norman recently for the regular quarterly session for the making of estimates on which to base a request for an appropriation from the legislature for maintenance and building expenses. The entire matter was placed in the hands of a committee consisting of President Evans, J. D. Lydick of Shawnee, C. C. Hatchett of Durant, and W. C. Rowsey of Muskogee. The committee will prepare a report for submission to the legislature at its regular session. The resignation of Dr. John Dice MacLaren, professor of Physiology was accepted. He resigned to accept a chair in the University of Oregon where more time for research work was afforded. Governor elect Cruce, the retiring president of the board, made an address in which he thanked the members for their support of and co-operation with him in building up the state university during his term as president.

COTTON RECEIPTS NEAR 10,500 MARK

The year closes with a total of 10,312 bales of cotton received at Ada. This indicates that when the few scattering bales yet in the country are brought in, the figures will stand at not less than 10,500. The compress has received 35,000 bales, or nearly twice as much as for last season. The oil mill is supplied with seed sufficient to run at least three months yet, thereby giving employment to quite a force of men. Taken all the way around, we have reason for congratulating ourselves on the cotton situation this season.

A Visit to Arkansas.

Arrived home from North Arkansas Thursday 6 a. m. My visit was pleasant and profitable. The old home is dear to me, and great in many respects, much better country than I left 20 years ago. The land is better, schools are better. For permanency and contentment they are strong, and the country is great, but we do things differently out here. Harrison, in Boone county, is a fine town, in a rich country, but I can't tell that its boundaries have been extended any in 20 years. I was told that it contained 2500 inhabitants, and it was a good town 35 years ago, but a finer citizenship can not be found, yet it does not build as we do out west. A finer country for health can not be found in the south. Nestled amidst the Bostons are a people who produce intelligence, wealth and manhood that blesses the world equal to that of any country. Many of our best citizens are produced in that country. It has contributed its quota to the development of the west for which we are grateful.

Public School Announcement.

We are assured by the man in charge of the repairing of the heating plant at the North School that everything will be ready for operation Tuesday morning.

The pupils who attend school regularly at the South and East schools will meet at the regular time Monday morning for a half-day session. In the afternoon at 2:30 a meet of all of the city teachers will be held at the South building to discuss plans for more systematic work in the future. There will be no school at the North building until Tuesday morning.

PUBLIC DRINKING FOUNTAIN ARRIVES

W. C. T. U. SUCCEEDS IN EFFORTS TO SECURE FINE FOUNTAIN FOR CITY.

For the past year or two the W. C. T. U. of Ada has been at work raising funds for a magnificent public drinking fountain. Through their efforts and the liberal donations of some Ada citizens and the city council they have finally succeeded in their undertaking, and the fountain has arrived from Dallas, where it was manufactured.

It consists of a big basin, about seven feet in diameter, in the middle of which rises a column about eighteen feet high. Around this are the heads of four lions from the mouths of which flows the water. Here the weary traveler can quench his thirst, while his horse drinks from the basin and even the dogs can drink from underneath the basin. The fountain will be mounted on a beautiful foundation on which is inscribed the letters "W. C. T. U." and the date. The column in itself is well ornamented and the fountain will be something of which the city may well be proud. It is made entirely of concrete.

It is not known exactly what it will cost when finally put in place, but we are told that it will not be far from $500. It will be placed at the intersection of Main and Townsend, near the Oklahoma State bank corner.

TRANSFER OF STATE OFFICES

Work Being Done in the Departments at Guthrie Friday of an Unfinished Nature.

Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 30.—Public business was suspended here today following the transfer of the seat of government to Oklahoma City when Gov. C. N. Haskell signed the removal bill here last night. The work being done in the departments was of an unfinished nature. Practically all of the state officials were in Oklahoma City arranging to hang out signs announcing they were at the new seat of government.

Both the Supreme Court and the criminal court of appeals will hold their session in Oklahoma City, return here to do the work and go back to Oklahoma City to deliver opinions. The physical property of the courts, such as the state library, records, etc. and records of the clerk of the supreme court will not be taken from Guthrie under the present order until Oklahoma City has erected the proposed building for the departments. It is indicated that the Attorney General's and other departments of the executive branch will get their cue from the courts and not move until they do. The Corporation Commission has a hearing set for Guthrie Jan. 7, since the commissioners state they are empowered to sit anywhere in the state. Physical property of such departments as the state dispensary, Adjutant general, labor commissioner and commissioner of charities, however, may be taken to Oklahoma City during the week. Callers wanting warrants registered were sent to Oklahoma City.

The clerk of the supreme court is receiving all callers and marking papers tendered for filing as of the date offered. This may not be considered a complete filing. However, if a right was involved, the courts would probably hold that the law had been complied with. The supreme court will maintain two offices, one in Oklahoma City and one in Guthrie. After the Oklahoma City office is completed and the clerk ready for work, it is construed, all documents offered must be taken there for filing and then brought to Guthrie, where the court's records are.

Presiding Judge Furman of the Criminal court of appeals stated that members of that tribunal would hear informally motions which attorneys have to offer here on Monday and Tuesday of next week, but any orders to be made or opinions delivered would be in Oklahoma City.

The supreme court will hold its next session in the White Temple on Broadway, Oklahoma City, Tuesday morning, beginning at 10 o'clock, for arguments and filing of motions. No opinions will be delivered until the following Tuesday, which is the regular term day, and then between thirty and forty will come down.

The Third Legislature meets in Oklahoma City Tuesday, Jan. 3.

GRAND JURY INDICTS ADAMS COUNTY CITIZENS

Every Man in One Township Caught In Net of Bribery and Corruption.

West Union, Ohio, Dec. 30.—Seventy-three more indictments were returned today by the grand jury which is probing the selling of votes in Adams county, under the direction of Judge A. Z. Blair. Seventy-three persons were arraigned.

Judge Blair said tonight it may become necessary to indict some men who bought votes in order to make a clean sweep of all guilty ones and bring about the decided reforms. It was discovered tonight that not a single voter will be left in one school district in Jefferson township which included Wamleyville. Every male citizen has been indicted but none arrested.

Two more ministers, both residents of Green township, were indicted today. Court officials decline to give out their names. Each received $5 for his vote. One young man confessed to have sold out to his own father and received $10 for his vote.

The oldest voter in the county, a man of eighty-four, has been disfranchised and he says he expects never to vote again. Many persons are placing chattel mortgages on their furniture to raise money to pay fines.

It has become somewhat of a point of pride with the indicted citizen to beat the deputy sheriffs by getting to court before warrants can be served.

Judge Blair's methods in listening to the pleas of guilty are extremely informal. He knows a large proportion of the voters of the county by their first names and when they come into court the scene is rather a social one. The judge sits on one side of a plain table, the indicted man on the other.

"How about it John, are you guilty?" asks the judge.

"I reckon I am, judge," is the usual reply.

"All right, John, I'll have to fine you $10 and you can't vote for five years. And I'll just put a six months workhouse sentence on top of that, but I won't enforce it so long as you behave."

"All right, judge, you've got the goods on me."

"And say, John you've been keeping liquor in your house and inviting your friends in, haven't you?" the judge will sometimes ask. Adams county is dry.

"That's right, judge," says the accused man.

"Well, you'll have to cut that out, John. Remember, there is a workhouse sentence hanging over you if you don't walk straight."

"All right judge; goodbye," and the penitent goes over to the clerk and pays his fine.

FRISCO SENDS CHECK FOR OVER $12,000

Receipts at the treasurer's office took a big jump yesterday when Agt. McNair walked into the office with a check for $12,454.02, covering the first half of the taxes due from the Frisco for 1910. Consequently there is no doubt about the treasury of Pontotoc county being in good shape just now.

At the Surprise Store they are telling it on Charley Floyd that since his wife and children went to Allen to spend a few days, Charley has been sprucing up like a gay young widower. In fact, they say he has been shining his shoes every morning.

CONTRACTOR LOOKING INTO PROPOSITION

A. R. Kirby of Lawton, contractor and hydraulic engineer was here yesterday consulting the councilmen relative to the Byrd's Mill water project. He thinks the plan to bring the water here is decidedly practical and that the quicker it is done, the better. His proposition is to buy the bonds and do the work, but nothing definite was done in the way of a contract yesterday because the specifications and several other details of the work have not been fully made.

Young Man Dies.

This morning at 1:15 Jno. Stotts of Mt. Pleasant, Tex., died at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jones on West 16th street. He arrived for a visit about Christmas and that night was taken with a hard chill. Pneumonia developed and he rapidly sank until the end came. Deceased is survived by his wife and one child, who arrived before his death. Interment will probably be at Rosedale.

"DUCKS" EACH BULLET WHILE TRYING TO DIE

Fires Three Times at Own Head, Then Quits Attempt—Puzzled.

New York, Dec. 29.—Wishing to commit suicide, Dominie Brandt purchased a revolver, then "ducked" every time he fired at his head. He repeated the performance three times, coming closer to the mark with each shot, the third bullet making a slight scalp wound.

The first time Brandt pointed the revolver at his head and pulled the trigger he changed his mind about dying as the hammer hit. The bullet went over his head in the nick of time.

Still despondent, however, he quickly fired again, but the subconscious desire to live was stronger yet and he "ducked" again.

Somewhat surprised to find himself alive he aimed for the third time at his head and a third time he involuntarily nodded, a trifle late.

Policeman Meade, hearing the firing, broke into the room and found Brandt sitting on the edge of the bed, looking at the revolver with a puzzled air.

"What's the matter with you, anyway?" the policeman asked.

"Waiting for the ducks to pass. I must be crazy," answered Brandt.

The man was taken to Bellevue hospital where it will require a period of observation to determine if his diagnosis is correct.

THE DRUG STORE AND THE DOCTOR

Few People Realize

how closely the two are associated. In the case of serious illness you demand a doctor's expert knowledge and direction. Did you ever stop to think that this was worthless without the PROPER CO-OPERATION on the part of the druggist? We realize this fact and if you stop to appreciate the importance of it you will bring your prescriptions to our store where they are filled exactly in accordance with the doctor's directions with pure, fresh, full strength drugs which guarantee the desired result.

THE DYING YEAR.

We are standing at the threshold of the death chamber of the year 1910. Only a few more hours remain to him before passing on to join the thousands of his predecessors in history. It is with sorrow that we part with our old friend, for he has dealt bountifully with Oklahoma during his time and the faces of our citizens are much brighter as a result of his stay than when he found us, and when 1910 is only a memory it will be a pleasant one. True, we have had some trials during this time some clouds as well as sunshine, but it is pleasant to remember that the joys have outweighed the sorrows, and the bright days have been much more numerous than the dark ones.

The year 1910 will pass into history as marking the time when Ada passed from the swaddling clothes of a big country village to the knickerbockers of a lusty young city.

Personally the News owes the year 1910 a debt of gratitude, for during this time we have seen some cherished hopes become realities.

Only a few more hours until 1911 is to rule our destinies. What bounty or what disappointment he may have in store for us, no one can tell, but as we look upon his smiling young countenance, we can but hope that he will be equally as gracious to us as was his predecessor. Ada hopes to pass even beyond the knickerbocker stage. We all hope to see the era of prosperity continued, and more of our aircastles become solid structures. We will welcome the New Year as befits our king, and then hand in hand with him will march forward ever hoping for the best and expecting the march of progress to become faster as it continues.

THE EDITOR AND THE FARMER.

A certain class of newspaper men assert that a farmer is the most independent man on earth, and that he has nothing to do but to enjoy life.
That when the winter comes and the blizzard's on the wing he toasts his feet in the oven and reads the local newspapers and the only thing that disturbs him is a call three times a day to a banquet of mince pies and other luxuries. It is a mistake.
The industrious farmer begins work long before the sun thinks of getting up. With his soul shrouded in gloom he proceeds to build a fire and soften his boots with a sledge hammer.
He then takes a lantern and shovels his way to the barn and feeds the hogs. It is then time to feed the newly arrived calf, which seemed to delight in butting a pail of milk over the tiller of the soil until he only needs to be stamped to pass for a package of oleomargarine. He crawls through the barbed wire fence and digs the hay out of the snow, feeds the cows, cleans the stable, gathers up the frozen chicks, chases a stray pig worth 25 cents for four miles and does not catch it, doctors a sick horse freezes his fingers, gets kicked by a one-eyed mule, and when the gloaming comes and quietness broods over all the earth he has a single half hour to meditate and wonder how he will pay his taxes.—Temple (Tex.) Tribune.

The Durant Democrat says that although that town is very much alive and has some good boosters, there is room for still others. The same applies to Ada, and possibly to all other young towns of Oklahoma. A booster is a jewel and we can't get too many of his kind. The town that gets the greatest number of hustlers during the next year or two is the one that is going to make the biggest city.

The more railroads the better it is for any town. Ada has a fair start towards being the railroad center of this section, and if during the year we succeed in landing another, we shall be too firmly established in that line to have any fear for the future.
Therefore, if a good proposition is made the town in the near future, it is up to every citizen to put his shoulder to the wheel and push as never before. One will likely come soon, so be ready to answer the call when you hear it.

Business men are all busy just now taking an inventory of their stocks.
A very opportune time for all of us to take a mental inventory and ascertain if we are any better off intellectually than we were a year ago.
We fear that in many cases such an inventory would show a very decided loss during the twelve months.

Edward Harter, sales agent for the Oklahoma Portland Cement Co., at Oklahoma City, arrived this morning.

ADA SOCIAL EVENTS.

XXth Century Program.

The XXth Century Club will meet at the Normal January, when the program will be as follows:

PROGRAM.
Roll Call—A Chinese Proverb.
Paper—The Boxer Uprising—Mrs.
Galbraith.
Climpse of Missionary Work.
The Missionary Enterprises.
Leader—Mrs. Harris.
American Missionary Work in China.
Leader—Mrs. Drummond.

Mrs. Biles Entertains XXth Century Club.

Tuesday afternoon was the regular meeting time of the Twentieth Century club. When the ladies assembled Mrs. Biles, the hostess, sprung a pleasant surprise by moving that business and the program be dispensed with and that they be her guests for a social afternoon.
The house was decorated with Christmas bells, holley and other holiday favors. A feature of the entertainment consisted of learning the recipe for a "scriptural fruit cake." The hostess gave each guest a text of scripture to hunt up calling for so many pounds or a certain measure of Amos, Nehemiah, etc. When these were found and read and placed together, there was the recipe ready for use.

A delicious buffet lunch was served the guests and they departed with warm words of praise for their charming hostess and her entertainment.

Mrs. I. M. King Entertains.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. I. M.
King entertained a number of friends in honor of her guests, Mesdames Lily Scruggs, of Florence, Ala., J. E. De-loney, of Tusculumbia, Ala., and R. O.
Kribbs, of Memphis, Tenn. In the receiving line were Mesdames Dr. King Kice, Simpson, Bolen, Ebey, Howerton and Barney and Miss Epperson.
Mesdames Mays and Chas. Frierson served tea to the assembled guests of the occasion. A delightful salad course was served.

An interesting "42" contest was played and Mrs. Robert Guest won first prize, a salt and pepper set. Mrs.
Duke Stone was awarded the "booby" prize, likewise a salt and pepper set.
This is the first time Mrs. King has entertained in her new home.

Miss Fannie J. Allen Entertains.

Monday evening Miss Fannie J.
Allen entertained about a dozen of her many friends at her home with "42". It was an informal little social affair, such as one really enjoys attending. Our information is to the effect that the young folks had an all around good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Sledge Surprised.

Yesterday evening about seven couples stormed the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sledge and were soon in full possession of the place, the surprised host and hostess surrendering at the first summons. The young folks made candy, played "42" and, as one of them expressed it, turned the house up side down, just as young folks delight in doing when having a general good time.

PARSONS OF DURANT

Information reached Durant this morning from Guthrie to the effect that Hon. R. H. Wilson of Chickasha state superintendent of education-elect, has announced the appointment of Hon. A. C. Parsons as his first assistant.

Mr. Parsons is well-known in Durant, he having formerly taught in the Southwestern Normal, but is at present a member of the Alva Normal faculty. Mr. Parsons is a graduate of the Nebraska State University and managed Mr. Wilson's political campaign.

Mr. Parsons is a brilliant young man and the honors have been well placed.—Durant Democrat.

Dissolution Notice.

The partnership heretofore existing between M. L. Sowers and George Chapman, formed for the purpose of conducting a wood yard in the city of Ada was dissolved on Dec. 8th, 1910, by M. L. Sowers selling his interest to J. B. Chapman, the said George Chapman assuming all debts due by the firm up to the time of the dissolution, and notice is hereby given that I have no further interest in the said partnership.

M. L. SOWERS.

THE DAY AFTER

Mrs. Smeeton simply could not get used to Kimi Kapashimi. During her ten years of housekeeping she had met, struggled with, vanquished or been vanquished by a procession of Marys, Noras, Helmas, Sadies and Evangelines, but Kimi was entirely different.

"I always look around for the orchestra when she trots in mornings," Mrs. Smeeton complained to her husband. "When she serves a meal it's like the second act of an opera! It gives me a regular start to see her dusting the reception room and I expect her to flirt the duster, smile and burst into a patter of song! Why, it isn't natural to have a little creature that looks like a Christmas doll from Japan doing the housework!"

"Well, she does it doesn't she?" demanded Smeeton, with masculine per-versity. "And that's more than most of the rest of 'em ever did!"

Mrs. Smeeton was convinced that if she told Kimi to have her sleek little black head chopped off immediately Kimi would smile and nod and say, "Missus yes!" which was her invariable reply to all orders.

That Kimi was a mind reader was evident, for her English was so scattering that she could not understand one-tenth of what was told her, yet somehow things always got done. Every odd moment the girl pored over her English lesson book and she asked more questions than any six-year-old boy extant.

"I never knew before that there were so many things I didn't know!" Mrs. Smeeton told her husband. "That girl makes me feel like a humann dictionary, an animated intellect! This morning, you know, it was raining hard when Kimi came in. I said to her, 'Good morning,' as usual. Five minutes later she burst in upon me with her ridiculous little black eyebrows tied in knots and she gesticu-lated wildly.

"Missus say 'Good morning,'" she got out, waving her hands dramatically at the downpour. 'It not good morning—bad, most bad! Why you say good?'

"Well, I couldn't tell her why. You know she has perfect oriental fits over some English words. I thought she'd laugh her head off over 'artichoke,' and at 'cucumber' she positively doubled up with mirth. She welcomed 'to-ma-to' as a friend and relative, and when she says it you think it's a Japanese term of endearment, at least!"

"Well, this dinner is a Japanese dream, so it's all right," declared Smeeton. "If Kimi Kapashimi keeps up this culinary pace she can have all the fits over the English languages she wants—she can have 'em with my official blessing!"

The day that Kimi failed to appear at all was one of woe and wonder to Mrs. Smeeton. The next morning Ki-mi came, bearing a large and impressive document, splashed with a great seal.

"Missus, please 'scuse?" she said, blithely, looking more than ever like an animated toy.

"Missus won't 'scuse!" retorted Mrs.
Smeeton. "Where were you yesterday?"

The girl pointed to the letter and Mrs. Smeeton opened it. The missive proved to be from the secretary of a Japanese-American society and the writer said he presumed that, of course, the honorable dear madam was aware that yesterday was the birthday of the emperor of Japan and his loyal subjects in the city had, of course, celebrated it. Miss Kapashimi had recited a poem at the exercises and so she could not report at the honorable madam's.

Mrs. Smeeton waved the document, with its seal, at her husband, when he came home. "Read it!" she said.
"What am I going to do? How can I tell how many times a year the emperor of Japan will take it into his head to have a birthday? Think how awkward it would be if he had a birthday the day I had a dinner party!
Anyhow, I don't see why I took Kimi a whole day to recite a poem! And when I explain how I feel about it she just bobs and smiles and chirps. 'Missus, please 'scuse,' and doesn't understand a word. She will go away and do the same thing again if she takes a notion!"

"Well," said Smeeton, after he had examined the document. "I don't know anything to do except refer the whole matter to Washington! It appears to be an international affair!"

"You are perfectly hateful!" said Mrs. Smeeton. "I'm going to write the honorable secretary of that society that I simply won't have the emperor having birthdays without notice and he can just tell Kimi so! It's too exasperating!"

"But consider this soup!" begged Smeeton. "And look at the way those flowers are fixed! Oh, come on—be a sport! Let the emperor of Japan have a birthday now and then and don't irritate Kimi Kapashimi!"

"Well," said Mrs. Smeeton, weakly, after she had tasted the soup, "maybe you're right! But I do hate to be so feeble-minded!"

Kimi Kapashimi trotted in blithely to remove the plates, totally unaware that their contents had aided in smoothing over another international difficulty.

To Our Friends:

As the year 1910 draws to a close we desire to express to our friends and customers our sincere thanks for and appreciation of the good will shown us in favoring us with their business. At the same time we wish to solicit a continuance of their favors, and if possible an increased volume of trade. To those who are not favoring us with their business we desire to express the hope that during the approaching year we may receive a more kindly consideration of our facilities for serving them. To both, our customers, and those to be our customers, we extend the greetings of the present Holiday Season, and we wish them a good measure of health, happiness and prosperity in the New Year.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

Ada People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words, but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, for Ada kidney sufferers, have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Ada people who have been cured to stay cured.

W. F. Jones, East Eleventh St., Ada, Okla., says: "It is over a year and a half since I used Doan's Kidney Pills and received a cure from a severe case of kidney complaint. There was a dull ache through my loins and too frequent passages of the kidney secretion caused me much annoyance. I tried a number of remedies, but received only temporary relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no occasion to take a kidney remedy since then, as the cure Doan's Kidney Pills effected has proven to be a permanent one."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

RUSSIAN STURGEON IN GULF

Big Fish, Which Provide World's Supply of Caviar, Migrating From Europe.

New Orleans.—Russian sturgeons, the fish which have been the source of millions in revenue to the Russian empire on account of the eggs, or roe, which provide the world's market with caviar, are migrating to the Gulf of Mexico. Hundreds of them are reported to be along the gulf coast, and there is in the possession of the state game commission a specimen caught in Barataria bay which weighed 167 pounds. This was the largest sturgeon ever captured in these waters and is preserved for exhibition purposes by the game commission. It was purchased by President P. M. Miller for $35 from the fisherman who captured it in his nets.

The meat of the fish is said to be the finest known and brings about 25 cents a pound wholesale. The fish caught had almost sixty pounds of roe, which is worth $1.75 a pound. The meat and roe was sold to a local restaurateur, where the caviar was served as a great delicacy.

Assistant Secretary Henry Jacobs of the game commission says that the Russian sturgeon's habitat is in the Caspian and Black seas, where hundreds of persons make a livelihood capturing and preserving them. This industry has been in progress for many decades, and the caviar has been shipped to every part of the world, netting millions to the corporations engaged in the pursuit. The fish is migratory, however, when closely pursued and it is said that for years they have been moving towards the Atlantic. They are becoming almost extinct in Russian waters, but it is said it will not be long before great fisheries for the sturgeon can be established along the gulf coast.

On account of the scarcity of the sturgeon roe in Russia the roe of the spoonbill catfish, which has its habitat in the Atchafalaya river, has been shipped for months to Russia.

The meat of the Louisiana spoonbill catfish sells for 17 cents a pound and the roe for $1.00. It is caught only in the Atchafalaya river, and in order to protect the fish and propagate it more rapidly a fishery is to be established by the game commission somewhere along that stream.

Shippers' Order and Liquor.

Guthrie, Ok., Dec. 30.—A holding of Judge West in the district court at Coalgate, to the effect that the so-called shippers' order in shipments of intoxicating liquors, does not throw around them the sanctity of interstate commerce. It has been the custom to make shipments on what appears to be an order from the shipper, the latter appearing at the warehouse or bank and paying the freight getting the liquor. Judge West held in effect that such consignments indicated that liquids were for sale, hence became contraband under the Oklahoma law. Officers of the state dispensary say this ruling, if followed, will completely eliminate one feature against prohibition which the Oklahoma law has not been able to overcome.

Ends Winter's Troubles.

To many, winter is a season of trouble. The frost bitten toes and fingers, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold sores, red and rough skins, prove this. But such troubles fly before Bucklen's Arnica Salve. A trial convinces. Greatest healer of burns, Boils, Piles, Cuts, Sores, Eczema and Sprains. Only 25c at Ramsey Drug Co.
